

Waterstone proves your investments aren't a world away

Melanie Hasty-Grant and Ken Grant from Waterstone Private Wealth Management provide world class investments for their clients everyday. However, after a recent trip to New York City, they got a full taste of Wall Street and the big apple to bring home to Owasso.

The Grants were special guests attending a Lord Abbett conference in New York City.

After meeting with money managers and economists regarding the markets and the global economy, these two wealth advisors knew that a trip wouldn't be complete without a visit to Wall Street and the New York Stock Exchange. Although Hasty-Grant had visited the exchange floor on previous trips, she said it still impressed her with its powerful atmosphere.

"It's really busy, loud and chaotic," said Hasty-Grant, LPL registered principle/financial consultant. "The sheer numbers of people, constant trading and commerce that occurs is staggering."

The duo was excited to be visiting on the day the Dow Jones Industrial average exceeded 12,000 for the first time in history.

"I am optimistic about the market", said Hasty-Grant. "Our clients can rest assured that we offer them all the resources available in working toward their financial goals."
